
ONE YEAR AGO hundreds of trees were planted along the vest bank of the Los Gatos Creek from the Campbell Park as far south as it was possible togo. The creek banks were also cleaned up by the volunteer citizen labor.

It was a fun-day, yet a great deal was accomplished.

The need for "doing something" about the creek, which is actually the front door of Campbell, has long been apparent by residents of this city, no matter what part of town they may reside.

The tree-planting, clean-up project was so successful last year, that it will be repeated again this year on Saturday, April 22.

This year it is sponsored by the newly-formed Citizens Committee for Beautification, headed by newly-elected Mayor Ed Rogers with Mrs. Ruth Hartman of the Campbell Garden Club as vice-chairman.

Last year's event was sponsored by the City council's committee for beautification which was also headed by Rogers.

We think this is a great opportunity for citizens interested in beautifying their town to actually become involved.

We are happy to report that most of the trees that were planted last year have thrived.. and so have the weeds.

There is much to do along the banks of the creek before it is transformed into the attractive area that it can become eventually.

Incidentally, during the past year the channel of the creek itself has been changed by the flood control people which has radically changed the looks of the area.

What we are trying to say is that there is a great deal yet to be done along the creek.

So, come out Saturday morning.

AND bring a shovel.

THERE SHOULD BE SOMETHING clever that we could say this week in this column about paying the income tax (state and federal) and the county property tax installment all within a few days of each other this month that would act as an antidote to the over-dose of monetary poison.

Unfortunately we have been so busily engaged in scrounging for the needed financial wherewithal that we haven't had time to be clever.

We have just been digging.

You can really get hurt breaking into those piggy banks.

LITTLE TIDBITS of incidental information have been finding their way recently into the St. Lucy's bulletin as sort of a capsule progress report on the construction of the spacious new church building that is hoped to be completed by July.

As you know the new church is located south of the old church (built in 1958) on Winchester Blvd. The parsonage is between them.

The little construction gems in the bul-

Along Los Gatos Creek

Citizens to plant trees Saturday

Armed with shovels and hoes, Campbell citizen "army" is expected to make its second annual assault on the banks of Los Gatos Creek this Saturday, April 22. (no rain is expected on Saturday, it says here.)

During the four-hour fun-work session, approximately 200 trees will be planted to augment the more than 200 trees that were placed on the creek bank last year when the first community-wide tree-planting, clean-up project was staged.

The unseasonable wet weather has only slightly dampened the enthusiasm of the civic leaders who maintain that dressing up Campbell's notorious eye-sore (the creek bank) is of prime importance to the overall image of the community.

Plans call for a lunch to be served by the Campbell Garden Club to the workers after the work session is completed. The Campbell Jaycees are coordinating this phase of the activities.

As in the previous crusade, the Green Valley Disposal Co., is cooperating in the general clean-up activities of the community.

The disposal company is offering a free trash pick-up service to all

Winchester Drive - in Theater

Planners persist with same "line"

Members of the Planning Commission on Monday night indicated they apparently preferred to show that their animosity had not wavered toward the Winchester Drive-in Theater rather than expedite the settlement of whether a line on a zoning map should be curved or straight.

By a 5-1 vote, the commission opoosed a recommendation by the City Council that the dividing line between two differently zoned parcels of property owned by the theater should be in an "arc" instead of straight.

The "arc," it had been pointed out, had originally been approved by the county to allow for better screening from the trees that will be planted.

In casting the lone vote, Ed Pack suggested that the issue seemed unimportant as it was merely a line on the map.

But the five other commissioners apparently felt otherwise. However, Thayer Lyons stated that he would have voted either way, as the City Council had already agreed to the "arc" and it thus would be adopted eventually.

Before the vote was taken, Michael Di Leonardo, attorney for the Winchester Drive-in Theater, appealed to the commis-

Citizens advisory group meets tonight

Committee of 60 begins city study

The general committee will be broken down into four sub-committees on public facilties, finance, streets, and parks and recreation. The meeting has been called for 7:30 p.m.

Originally the 14-member executive committee, including a representative from each of the 12 geographical areas into which the town was divided, and a general chairman and vice chairman were appointed by the City Council.

Executive committee members have been responsible for the expansion of the general group into the 60-member body that will study the capital improvement program for Campbell and make recommendations to the City Council early in June.

The executive board last week also named the chairmen for th four sub-committees that will begin their study this week. Executive committee members were also assigned to the four sub-committees.

Norman Paul, of 44 El Caminito has been named chairman for the public facilities unit. Carl Mattison (area #12); Bob Dalzall (area #4); Dick Strong (area #5); and Rod MacDermott (area #8), are members from the executive board assigned to this unit while Dick Hardy, represents the C. of C on it. The other appointments to this and the other study groups will be made tonight.

UP THE CREEK WITH A PEDAL--Mayor Ed Rogers (left) and City Manager Bob Stephens demonstrate the possibilities of a bike path along the Los Gatos Creek. But they will be armed with shovels instead of bikes next Saturday as the second annual tree-planting project takes place on the creek.

Editorial

Tree-planting time

Weather permitting, the second annual communitywide tree-planting, clean-up project will take place this Saturday morning, April 22, on the banks of Los Gatos Creek.

This cooperative civic project was highly successful last year when hundreds of residents, in conjunction with city employees, descended on the creek and planted hundreds of trees along the bank which materially improved the appearance of what has long been termed Campbell's main eye-sore.

We sincerely urge as many residents as possibly can to again contribute a few hours this next Saturday toward the improvement of that area.

We think it will be a rewarding experience. Not only will you be aiding in a worthwhile civic project but you will also enjoy the good fellowship that prevails during the work periods and afterwards in the gabfests.

It is an excellent opportunity to meet your fellow citizens and at the same time actually do something about a bad situation.

It is true that miracles will not be accomplished in the four-hours or so that are spent on the project annually by interested citizens. But it is a start and each year the trees that have been planted will become bigger. A few years hence all who have participated will be able to point with pride to tree-lined banks and know that they had a hand in its transformation.

The planting of trees next Saturday is just one step in the overall city beautification program in which we are all interested.

To aid the individual home-owner also in the general improvement, the semi-annual free trash pickup service will be offered by the Green Valley Disposal Co. (formerly Los Gatos Scavenger Co.) on Tuesday, April 25.

Homeowners are asked to place their trash on the curbs in bundles or receptacles that can be handled by one man when the truck comes by.

We are all aware that the unseasonable wet weather has curtailed much of the yard work. Chances are the clean-up crusade this year thus will be somewhat less effective because of the late heavy rains.

But, even if Mother Nature is not cooperaing, we urge all to participate in the general clean-up program on an individual and communitywide basis.

So come out next Saturday morning to the Campbell Park on Los Gatos Creek.

There is a tree waiting for you..And bring a shovel.

Public Schools Week

Next week (April 24-28) is Public Schools Week. One of the highlights locally will be the special program, sponsored by three Masonic lodges in the area, at Campbell High School, on Tuesday, April 25, at 8 p.m.

Theme of this year's observance is "Insure America's Future...Know and Support our Public Schools."

First initiated and sponsored by the Grand Masonic Lodge of California in 1920, Public Schools Week has developed into one of the major public events on the California school calendar.

Most schools in the area will observe the event with special programs and "open houses" designed to give the public an opportunity to take stock of California's most important mission--the education of its children.

As parents and taxpayers, the public has a very real investment in schools--and all good investors have an obligation to see how their money is being used.

We suggest that all who can should visit the schools during the week and observe their operation.

We concede that no one can fully understand school programs in just one visit to the classroom. But it can become the beginning of a fuller understanding, if this one visit is followed up by closer contacts between the teacher and parent.

We commend the three Masonic lodges in the area of their efforts in emphasizing Public Schools Week locally with the special program next Tuesday night.

The program will feature talks by Anders Framme, an exchange student at Westmont High, and George Kraw, Los Gatos High student body president, and numbers by Campbell High musical groups.

All of us will agree, we are sure, that the public school program is of utmost importance to all of us and the theme of this year's event, "Insure American's Future...Know and Support Our Public Schools" emphasizes this basic concept.

We urge you all to recognize "the week" by visiting the schools or attending next Tuesday's program.

But also try to remember that schools operate more than just one week a year.

letin are from his knowledge of the "specs" for the building, probably dug up by Father John Lally. They appropriately appear under the heading of "WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL", a famous cathedral in England that is centuries old but has gained its most prominence recently via the disc jockeys (and Rudy Vallee) as the name of a popular song.

One item under "Winchester Cathedral" recently reported the height of the cross that is mounted on the top of the 75-foot carillon tower which is separate from the church.

Another more recent one mentioned was that there were 13,000 concrete blocks in the church building.

Another told about the huge laminated beams that span the structure and how few bolts are needed to hold them together.

They make interesting reading.

We are looking forward to Father Lally's next revelation of some of the other little-known details about the magnificent building.

COMPLAINING about mail deliveries is nothing new. The overworked and understaffed postal crew probably are pretty immune by this time from the barbs they have received.

But every once in a while some intriguing new developments do arise concerning the wanderings of a piece of mail that are real head-scratchers.

Jim Duffield, C. of C. manager, for example, recently dropped two letters in the mail at the same time both addressed to us in the same way.

One made it into our P.O. box immediately. But the other somehow took off for a brief spin to San Jose before it landed in the box a day later.

But such peculiar "tours" are not solely confined to the post office.

Recently it took three weeks for us to be notified by one local bank that a check from one of our customer's that Fran had deposited in another local bank was lacking its essential ingredient.

Another unusual feature of the case was that we learned from the customer, who had "hung the paper" and left town, that her check needed monetary reinforcements (which she provided) before we got the word from the bank.

We suppose this could be another computer mix-up.

And we really have no kick coming. We got most of our money out of it.

We guess it is pretty complicated to establish contact between banks.

After all the two banks involved are a half-a-block apart.

Congregational Church has its 78th birthday

The 78th anniversary of the Congregational Church of Campbell will be observed with a special sermon by Dr. Corwin Olds, minister emeritus, on Sunday, April 23, at the 10 a.m. service.

The founding date of the congregation was April 24, 1889. This anniversary also marks the tenth year of occupancy of the building at 400 W. Campbell Ave. The church was previously located at 75 N. Central Ave., in the building now occupied by the Campbell City Hall. Dr. Olds served the congregation from 1948 to 1960. He is presently serving the La Selva Beach Church as its minister.

residents of Campbell on Tuesday, April 25. Residents are asked to place their trash on the curb next Tuesday in bundles that can be handled by one man on the truck, which will swing by sometime during the day.

The tree-planting, clean-up campaign this year is under the general direction of the newly-formed Citizens Committee for City Beautification headed by Mayor Ed Rogers, and who also heads the council's civic improvement unit. Mrs. Ruth Hartman of the Campbell Garden Club is vice-chairman of the beautification committee.

Last year the council committee, with city staff personnel actively participating, directed the program.

Interested citizens are urged to assemble at Campbell Park at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, from where they will be directed to the various spots on the creek bank that will be "attacked."

Since last year's big event, the channel of the creek has been changed and the appearance of the entire area has been greatly altered. Residents are urged to "explore" the area this Saturday and offer suggestions as to how it can be further improved.

Although most of the trees that were planted last year have thrived, so have the weeds and grass, so the citizen-workers Saturday will be able to make good use of their hoes and shovels.

The new channel and the changing of the banks also has pointed up the possibility that bike and hiking trails can be developed. It is possible even now, it has been pointed out, to ride a bike from the Campbell Park to Page Dam (with a portage over just one bad spot).

Aside from the need for a citizen work party to improve the looks and plant trees, civic leaders are also anxious for all residents to get a close look at the area to see the possibilities that the future holds.

Saturday is a good day to do this, they point out, and bring a shovel.

Two story jobs force deadlock on commission

A tie-vote (3-3) on the request of the Leep Development Co. for a variance for side-yard setbacks to allow for two-story homes in a subdivision that borders on Saratoga forced the Planning Commission on Monday night to continue the hearing until May 1.

A six-member commission (Frank Klein was absent) split down the middle on the request for the variance with Thayer Lyons, Kel Young and Dean Chamberlin opposing the variance and Jack Healey, Ed Pack and Merrill Grim favoring it.

The commission, however, approved the application for the Leep Development Co. for a 67-lot tract next to the other subdivision, with the stipulation that the final grading plan involving the height of the fill along the creek must be submitted before final approval is granted.

The commission also approved plans for 'Der Wienerschnitzel" for a restaurant at Fewtrell and Bascom and plans for a professional office building for King Associates at 1262 E. Hamilton.

Denied, however, was the application for a pole sign for the Crown Billiards at 1740 Winchester Blvd.

The commission recommended approval for an ordinance permitting towing service with storage of wrecked vehicles in M-1 zones with a use permit.

Also approved for adoption was an ordinance allowing billiard parlors (i.e. those having three or more tables) in C-2-S, C-3 and C-H zones.

sioners not to allow their feelings of bitterness to affect the solution to the minor issue.

The attorney emphasized that the theater owners had carried out all the conditions levied by the City Council.

He urged the commission to act for the best interests of all cerned rather than to recall the bitterness of the past. It was sort of "beating a dead horse," the attorney claimed.

Chairman Jack Healey, in answering Di Leonardo, maintained that the commission had not been in on any of the negotiations that led up to the council settlement, and they were standing on their convictions.

Kel Young added that he had no bitterness about it but that he felt it was just poor planning to have the dead space that the arc would make. He pointed out that in a prior action the commission had recommended the straight line and he saw no reason to change.

The motion to oppose the council's recommendation for the "arc" instead of the straight line was made by Young and was seconded by Merrill Grim, who was at his second meeting as a planning commissioner.

Voting for the motion were Healey, Young, Dean Chamberlin, Grim and Lyons.

The matter now goes back to the City Council which can by a four-fifths vote overrule the commission's action. The council is scheduled to act on it next Monday, April 24.

thwarted in the development of the property because of its size. The property is also involved in any proposed widening of the street so the city is researching the acquisition cost and other factors.

When the widening of Winchester is completed, there will be four moving traffic lanes and parking lanes on either side.

The council next Monday is also expected to put its blessing on the suggested name of "Sunny Oaks Meadows" for the county-owned Camden park that is now under development. The name was submitted by the Parks and Recreation Commission and will be forwarded to county authorities.

The council may also take steps Monday night to put all city employees by July 1, under the state retirement system which now covers the police and fire departments. Recently 70% of the city employees favored going under the state system in preference to the private carrier they now have.

WHO'S PROUD?

There are two types of pride . . . False pride is nothing but a sham . . . a pretense . . .

Real PRIDE is the pride of "belonging", and has Character and Feeling!

WE HAVE REAL PRIDE . . . Every day in the year our pride increases as we find more reasons to be proud that we chose Campbell as our location in Santa Clara Valley.

WE ARE PROUD . . . of the endeavors of the people; the Clubs, Organizations, and Societies in Campbell, who are working to make the Image of Campbell, a long standing tribute to Her Citizens!

WE ARE PROUD . . . that we are here among the people in the "Heart" of Santa Clara Valley, with those people whose Hearts are in Their Community.

ALL OF US . . . Administrators, and Personnel ARE PROUD to commend the People's actions in declaring the coming event, "Campbell's Second Annual Clean-up, Tree Planting Project", and we take further PRIDE in being a part of this event.

THIS IS THE WAY, Campbell, that We and You, TOGETHER, prove that we are justifiably Proud!

WE ARE PROUD!

Campbell Schools will observe Public Schools Week April 24 - 28

Campbell high school to hold student administration day

by Dave Turner

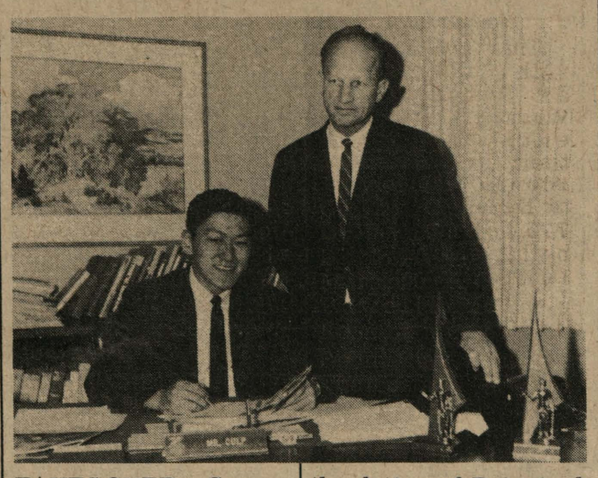
As part of their observance of Public Schools Week, Campbell High School will stage a Student Administration Day on Wednesday, April 26. For the entire day, members of the Student Council will assume, as much as is possible, the duties of the various administrators in managing the internal and external affairs of the school.

Miss Agnes Valdez, Director of Student Activities stated the purpose of the event as being "to give student leaders and insight into and appreciation of the duties, responsibilities and challenges of the administrative positions of a high school." Miss Valdez went on to say that whil this may not encourage all of the participants to enter the field of education, it will do no less than familiarize the students with the problems facing public schools.

Principal Robert M. Culp stated he believes the program will benefit not only the students participating, but also the rest of the student body, the faculty, parents, and the community as a whole. It is hoped, that a copy of student administration on the city level can be set up next year.

Filling in for the administrators will be George Taniguchi as Principal, Greg Lin as Director of Education, Rocky Fagundes as Dean of Boys, Martha Hyde as Dean of Girls, Leger Grindon as senior counselor, Hank Oltman as junior counselor, Chuck Hawthorne as sophomore counselor, Monty Hart as freshman counselor, and Mason Sacks as Director of Student Activities.

A similar event was held in 1961 and, according to Mr. Culp, was "extremely successful."



TAKES OVER.. George Taniguchi, (seated) president of the student body at Campbell High School, will take over the duties of Principal Robert Culp, on Student Administration Day, April 26.

STUDENT ADMINISTRATOR... Martha Hyde, right, Campbell High School student manager, will assume the duties of Mis Christian Flynn, Dean of Girls, at next Wednesday's Student Administration Day.

Warrior World

Sweep, sweep, sweep is the word around Westmont as the annual Sweep Week continues under full swing. Each class takes a day, Seniors Monday, Juniors Tuesday, and so on, to clean up the campus. On Friday all classes combine for an "All School Sweep." And the class winner will be announced at the dance Friday night.

The dance Friday night is sponsored by Mayo and Art Honorary, and will feature live entertainment.

Tomorrow is Senior Dress Day, when all the members of the Senior class will dress in their finest, to show the underclassmen just who the Seniors are. Rumor has it that the Seniors have something up their sleeve for Friday.

Saturday morning the members of Girl's Sports will hold a car wash at the Phillips 66 Station on Saratoga Ave. near Westgate. Cost is $1.00, and the girls will wash your car from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Over in the after-school sports department, we find that tennis and baseball met Campbell for a match and game yesterday afternoon. Tomorrow the two teams meet Camden, with both contests starting at 3:30 p.m. Friday for both meets. Track and swimming also face Camden this week and starting time is 3:30 p.m.

Campbell seniors continued to rake in honors last week as winners of California State Scholarships were announced and Bank of America zone interviews were held.

Out of Campbell's 25 semi-finalists in the state-wide competition for State Scholarships, 8 students were selected as winners. The scholarships, which may be used on any campus within the state of California, range in value from $100 to $1500, depending on the individuals choice of schools and his financial need. The recipients of the awards are: Terry Brink, Leger Grindon, Gail McEvoy, Jean Schoenberger, George Taniguchi, Mark Thomas, and Dave Turner.

Although Campbell had no first place winners, it was the only school to place all of its entries at the recent Bank of American zone interviews. Competing for a chance to go to San Francisco and receive a large scholarship grant, Campbell's representatives finished with one second and two third places. In the field of Fine Arts, George Taniguchi picked up a second place and a $50 check. Receiving $25 each for their third place finishes were Richard Phillips and Dave Turner in the fields of Science and Math and Liberal Arts, respectively.

Results from yesterday's tennis match and baseball game with Westmont were not available at presstime, but regardless of the outcome, the past week was a successful one for the Buccaneers in all sports.

The varsity baseball team opened its season with wins over Los Gatos and Saratoga, while the Soph-Frosh squad posted a win over Saratoga in its opener. In other action against Saratoga, the tennis team posted a 6-1 decision over the Falcons, the trackmen the trackmen swept all three divisions, and the varsity swimmers dunked the birds also. The only teams to lose their contests were the Bee and Cee swim teams, who found teams, who found that some Falcons fly through the water.

This Thursday, April 20th, the varsity baseball and tennis teams will host the Blackford Braves, while the Soph-Frosh nine tries their luck on the Braves hunting grounds. Friday will see the spikers and mermen trying to lasso the Leigh Longhorns, with a track meet at the Leigh corral and a swim meet in Buccaneer waters.

Tuesday, April 25, is also filled with action as the tennis and varsity baseball teams host the Del Mar Dons and the swimmers will try to wash Westmont down the Warriors own drain. All events listed above will begin at 3:30 p.m.

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

The Brownies night out with their fathers was a huge success! The turnout for the Brownie Banquets held Wednesday evening, April 5, totaled 600 Brownies, their dads and special guests.

This is the fifth year this event has taken place and it certainly proved to be worthwhile once again. The banquet held at San Tomas school was under the able direction of Mrs. Earl Freeman and the Rolling Hills by Mrs. Benj. Snetsinger. Senior scouts, Mary Budrow and Marien Myrick, both of Neighborhood 15, served as M. C's. at the San Tomas banquet while Mr. James St. Germaine handled the proceedings at Rolling Hills. Cadet Scouts of Troop 55, Barbara Kiser and Lori Pellet aided Mrs. Snetsinger. We wish to thank both schools for their great cooperation

Brownies from Troop 824, Hazelwood School took a field trip to the Kirkwood Plaza Aquarium April 13. Part of scounting is "discovering new and interesting things" and this was a marvelous adventure for the girls. The troop leaders are Mrs. Baker Cleveland and Mrs. Thomas Reddick.

The Bucknall Jr. Scouts, Troop 704, entertained the three Brownie troops, 467, 736 and 609 of that school in a "bridging event" last week. Games were played, explanations and demonstrations of uniforms, pins, badges and trail signs were given and two skits written and presented by the Jr.'s were the form of entertainment for the girls. Refreshments were made and served by the troop members under the leadership of Mrs. Ray Webster and Mrs. Barry Hollenbeck.

Attention all Thrifty Minded People! Troop 211 Junior Scouts, Hazelwood School will hold their second annual Thrifty Sales April 20-22. The sales will be held in the garages at the following addresses: 556 Virginia, 3757 Delgado Ct. and 2243 Middletown, Campbell. They will be open from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. each day. The sales are to support the troops camping trip to Big Sur State Park the last week in August. They hope to make this an expense paid trip for the girls. For many who will participate this will be their only camping experience as Girl Scouts this summer.

If you have anything to contribute to the sale, please call 378-0548 for pick up arrangements. Keep the dates and time in mind and drop in at the sale--they might have just what you're looking for.

Cadette Troop 55 of Rolling Hills has a busy schedule ahead as they complete their school year activities.

Next week the troop will be entertaining over 60 sixth graders from eight Junior troops at a costume "Kaliedocycle" party. Bright lights and color, good food, games and a brief look at this level of Girl Scouting (7th, 8th and 9th grade) will highlight the evening.

The last weekend of April has been set aside for camping---destination is a secret! Final activities will culminate in a Parent Recognition Court of Awards night on May 17th. Tentative plans are being discussed for the summer program, with a large group of girls assisting adults at day camp. Girls helping have completed a two day course on teaching skills needed in working with younger Scouts. Another group is completing the child care course (GEMS) provided by the Santa Clara County Doctors Wives Auxiliary. The troop consists of 42 girls led by Mrs. James St. Germaine and Mrs. Nino Candelaria.

PTA NEWS

HAZELWOOD

The week of April 24th has been set aside as Public Schools Week, and parents are encouraged to visit their children's classrooms during that week at Hazelwood School, 775 Waldo Road, Campbell.

On April 25, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a brief business meeting and election of officers of the Home and School Club followed by Open House.

The teachers will all be in their rooms to greet the visiting parents and children. In the faculty room on April 26, the members of the Home and School Club are honoring the teachers with a Pot Luck Luncheon.

MONROE SCHOOL

The Monroe Home and School Club is sponsoring a Father and Son Spaghetti Feed and Sports Night at the Monroe Cafetorium 1055 South Monroe Street, San Jose on Wednesday, April 19, at 6:30 p.m. For the price of $1.25 per father and $1.00 per son, each participant will be treated to spaghetti, green salad, French bread, dessert, and beverage.

PTA investigates school route

A meeting of a committee to plan a safe route, or access to school, for school children who must travel Pollard Road will be held Tuesday, April 20, 7:30 p.m. at Rolling Hills Jr. High School.

One child has been struck and seriously injured by a car on Pollard Road while coming home from school this year. The increased number of children attending schools in this area and the ever increasing amount of auto traffic make a quick solution to this problem imperative.

Public attendance and counsel are important in the successful solution of this critical area of concern.

Boy Scouts are especially encouraged to attend as the Eagle Scouts of Troop 336 and their Dads will be honored guests for the evening.

In charge of the affair is Rocci Pisano, Home and School Club President. Assisting him are Bonnie McGee, Rosemary Quilici, Dean Brown, Lyle Hunt, Bill Mitchell, Don Stephens, Birdie Hammer, Joan Franks, Dottie Pettingill, Marguerite Near, Betty Olsen, Buster Ichikawa, and Marilyn Hills.

1 YEAR AGO

Planting of 500 trees along one-quarter mile of the Los Gatos Creek bank will be the main feature of the first city-wide work-day on Saturday, April 23, as a climax to the month-long Campbell Clean-up Crusade, according to civic leaders.

Ralph Doetsch and Homer Hyde, incumbent city councilmen, received a resounding vote of confidence in the city election on Tuesday when they were reelected for four-year terms. The voters rejected fluoridation of water, however, with 1274 "no" votes to 728 on the affirmative side. Less than 25% of the registered voters went to the polls.

Having had more than a month to study the question after first holding a three-hour discussion on it on March 16, members of the County Planning Commission, next Wednesday, are expected to decide whether a use permit should be granted a drive-in theater just off Union Ave.

Ralph Doetsch made history Tuesday when he went over the top in the city council election with 451 as the first write-in candidate in the Campbell City Council election to beat out his opponents.

Two Campbell Union High School senior students, Kurt Ritter and Richard Titus, received distinguished honors this week when they were notified they had been awarded the coveted Naval ROTC scholarship, which provides for a four-year scholarship to the college of their choice.

Booklets on fallout shelter protection, issued by the United States Government, are now available at Clarks Drugstore on Campbell Ave.

Neither one of the alternate routes for the proposed Junipero Serra Freeway will interfere with present facilities in Campbell, Mark E. Thomas, city engineer, told the City Council Monday night. Campbell lies almost halfway between the two routes.

Campbell City Planners heard the same story from two different parties last Thursday night--it is imperative that the requirements for the new industrial park be established as soon as possible so that industries will know what to do about them.

Mrs. Ellis Litynsky, acting Campbell postmaster, announced Wednesday that she had received instructions to discontinue Saturday mail deliver. She also said the windows at the local office will be closed on Saturday until further notice.

Local Rotarians at their Monday meeting, sniffed marijuana ash as an experiment and to lend realism to the talk on Narcotics by Bart Collins, a chief of San Jose Detective Bureau. Although there is a slight marijuana problem in Southern California due to Mexican traffic, Collins depreciated the overall narcotics problem in Western states, remarking that the narcotics situation has been blown up out of all proportion by national publicity.

In a press release from Korea dated March 17, came notice that PFC Harold Inouye of 300-A Downing St. was recently awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge, symbol of front line fighting man, while with the 40th Infantry Division in Korea.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - How can I be sure that all wages that I have earned under social security are credited to my account?

A. - Ask your Social Security Office for a Form 7004, "Request for Statement of Earnings". This is a postcard form, addressed to the bookkeeping office in Baltimore, Maryland. That office will send you a statement of all earnings posted to your account. If your records do not agree with this statement, notify your Social Security Office.

Q. - I filed for disability two years ago and was turned down as not being disabled. My disability is more severe now. Can I now qualify for disability benefits?

A. - It is possible that you could qualify. You would still have to meet the work requirement and the severity of disability test. You should get in touch with your Social Security Office. Someone there will be glad to advise and assist you in filing a new claim.

Q. - How soon after being discharged from a hospital can I re-enter the hospital and be covered by Medicare?

A. - You can re-enter the hospital immediately and be covered until you have used up the 90 days of hospital care permitted during a spell of illness. When you have been out of a hospital or nursing home for 60 consecutive days, a new "spell of illness" period begins. This means a new 90-day period of eligibility.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

When Senator Edward Brooke of Massachusetts recently returned from Vietnam and reversed his previously critical position about our Southeast Asian policy, it gladdened the hearts of our military men in the field.

One of them told me, "There is nothing that makes you understand what's going on in this war like seeing it first-hand."

The confirmed "hawk" who wants to win in a hurry would find that a quick military victory in the traditional sense is impossible. Allied forces do have the power to take any piece of territory, but holding it is a different proposition.

To make each area secure would require several million troops. This is impossible, so areas won today are reinfiltrated tomorrow by the Viet Cong.

The confirmed "dove" who dwells only upon the ugliness of military necessity and casts U.S. servicemen in the role of reckless butchers would be dumbfounded to hear the emphasis which they place on economic and social progress for the Vietnamese. Military men know the NLF is not organized and able to formally surrender and it is not possible to identify and find all the enemy--so they accept the fact that a traditional military victory is impossible.

They know the only hope for peace is to secure cooperation of the Vietnamese people and that military operations serve only the purpose of convincing the people that they will be protected from Viet Cong terrorism if they cooperate with

In the northern provinces dramatic successes in the pacification and the nation building phases of the war are evident. Areas containing as many as 200,000 people are now sufficiently pacified that villagers can cooperate without finding their mayor or leading citizens murdered.

This has allowed the Marine Corps to concentrate on nation building and training the Vietnamese to defend themselves. It is incongruous but heartening to see tough Marines enthusiastic about improving health, solving sewage problems, and improving the production of livestock.

In the Delta region, U.S. forces are now taking the first steps which led to success in the north. If they do as well there, pacification and nation building will be in full swing in the difficult Delta region by this time year.

Being on the scene convinces one that neither the "hawks" nor the "doves" are infallible in their judgment. Never in history has there been a war as nasty, against a more cunning and treacherous enemy and which so completely defies understanding.

But if it is won, South Vietnam, blessed with fertile soil and abundant natural resources, can and will become a leading nation--hopefully a democratic nation which will firmly implant freedom on the Asian mainland.

Signs for the future are good. The ingredients for social and economic progress are all present. National pride, so important to a nation building, is beginning with Vietnam's new constitution. All that is needed is peace.

Thanks to the U.S. military presence in Vietnam, the outlook for peace, though still in the hazy distance, is much brighter than it was a year ago.

Polls show that most Americans feel "a low sense of urgency about the subject of Civil Defense. Yet an effective shelter program could save an estimated forty-five million lives in a nuclear attack.

Since 1961 the Office of Civil Defense has concentrated on a goal of providing protection from fallout for every individual in the United States. On a nationwide basis, fallout shelter for 156 million persons has been located in existing structures.

Seventy-five percent of California's population--over eleven million people--could be accommodated by present shelter space in the state. In Santa Clara County, surveys have pinpointed space in 341 existing buildings for 409,000 persons, or 64% of the county's population. Two hundred five thousand spaces have been licensed as public fallout shelter spaces in emergencies; 134,000 have been marked with the black and yellow public fallout shelter sign; and 71,000 are stocked with minimum supplies of food, medicine and sanitation equipment.

The office of Civilian Defense(OCD) is now extending its survey to locate smaller buildings and basement homes containing shelter areas with a minimum protection factor of 40. This means that inside radiation would be 1/40 or 2 1/2% of the outside radiation intensity.

In addition to locating space in existing structures, OCD is promoting the voluntary design of improved fallout shielding in new buildings. Almost 12,000 architects and engineers have been trained as fallout shelter analysts and are professionally skilled in the use of "slanting" techniques to incorporate fallout protection in the design of a new building without adversely affecting its normal function, appearance or cost. For example, a preplanned dual-purpose shelter area will be built into one of Sunnyvale's new fire stations. The Palo Alto City Hall has already been built in this fashion.

The Civil Defense program makes plans for effective use of the shelter system, warning procedures, emergency communications, radiological monitoring, and the training of personnel capable of conducting emergency operations under extreme stress.

In Santa Clara County warning is received over the National Warning System at San Jose. This system (NAWAS) ties 1,245 warning points throughout the nation to the Norad Combat Operations Center in Cheyenne Mountain, Colorado. Warning is disseminated throughout the county by bells, lights, radio and telephone. Four radio stations in the area are tied into the Emergency Broadcast System and one, KXRX, is provided with fallout protection and an emergency generator to ensure that citizens may continue to receive authoritative information. There are also 180 radiological monitoring instruments in thirty monitoring stations operated by 103 trained personnel in Santa Clara County.

A vital component of an effective Civil Defense program is an informed and prepared citizenry. I strongly suggest your support and participation in local civil defense activities. As a start, I'll be pleased to supply two pamphlets upon request--"Family Food Stockpile for Survival" and "Your Family Survival Plan."

Child Development Center offers new hope for retarded children

By Sally Howe

How often have we seen a retarded child in a public place and felt a wave of sympathy come over us, for the parents, as well as for the child?

And haven't we always assumed that "the state" furnished some kind of school or institution for this child?

In most cases, there are "places" where retarded children can get a simple education, based on their individual limits. This county has classes in many of the regular schools, as well as an entire facility (Joseph McKinnon School) devoted to children of limited abilities.

What about the child before he is accepted in one of these classes? What about the child that is not considered educatable? Where does he go to school? Can he go to school? Are his parents forced to accept responsibility for him 24 hours a day?

Until two years ago, there was no choice for the parents of a severely retarded child except to institutionalize him or to accept full-time responsibility for his care.

Then, a new concept was advanced. Why not offer these children the services of a classroom and some adult supervision and see how they got along together? Starting with a classroom loaned in another school, the program got off to a flying start. One facility is presently operating on the east side of San Jose, another uses two classrooms in the new Chandler Tripp School on Thornton Ave.

We visited the new facility recently. Supervisor Mrs. Cavallaro is delighted with the new surroundings. Twenty-seven children attend the westside "Child Development Center" and receive care for a few hours or the entire day from Mrs. Hines, Mrs. Montuy, and Gordon Ludwig. Each of the adult personnel has been involved with the handicapped in some way, and each finds their work with the children rewarding.

The situation in the school is much like that of a nursery school. The children eat their lunch, take naps, play with blocks, dance, sing, and watch television. They have the use of paper, crayons, and paint. Chandler Tripp shares their playground and equipment with the Center.

We talked with Al Occhipinti, president of the Parents and Friends of Child Development Centers for Handicapped Minors.

Occhipinti's son, Bobby, suffered a series of seizures as a baby, resulting in severe brain damage. Until the school opened two years ago the Occhipintis had no opportunity to get Bobby out into group situations. Today, Bobby is happily enrolled in the program, leaving his mother free to work.

Primary interest of the Occhipintis, a Campbell family, is to raise funds to supplement and implement the school's program. To date, they have had funds come from some highly unlikely sources ---such as a motorcycle group--the East-side Motorcycle Club--who sponsored a Hill Climb, and raised $340 for the organization. Occhipinti says the motorcycle group is "a very find group of young men who obviously have compassion."

Help has come from the owners of the Flea Market, who've donated space for the club's sales. They've also held a sale of housewares, and are planning to sell the J. F. Kennedy "Flame of Hope" candles.

On April 29, Citizens Band Alert, San Jose Branch, will sponsor a "Coffee Break" at O.S. Hubbard School, from 7-11 p.m. which will benefit the center.

Currently the parent group hopes to start a transportation fund to get the children to the classrooms. Not all parents, Occhipinti points out, have a car available. Working parents don't always go in the same direction or at the same time the school facility opens. Although they could use eight-six passenger buses, the critical need right now, Occhipinti says, is for just one.

The adult group also plan to commit their funds for a permanent facility and hope that the Board of Supervisors will look favorably upon their requests for one. They also plan to design and print a booklet which will describe the center, in hopes that parents of other "uneducables" can be reached.

Officers in addition to Occhipinti include: Richard Whalley, vice president; Aaron Smith, Santa Clara County employee, second vice president; Mrs. Betty Wible, secretary, and Mrs. Lucille Hester, treasurer. Information can be obtained by writing P.O. Box 5323, San Jose.

The next time you see a retarded child, let a wave of pride come over you.

There are people who care.

HAPPY FACES. . These children were formerly not acceptable in mentally retarded schools and were forced to spend their time at home. Today they can enjoy a day-long play-time with friends in classrooms loaned by Chandler Tripp School. Later in the day, others who have been attending Joseph McKinnon School will join them. Enrollment in the school has freed many of the children's parents to seek outside employment, or merely to "have a break" from the stress of caring for a mentally retarded child.

HELPING HANDS.... Three women and one man work with the children enrolled at the Child Development Center. Here, Mrs. Montuy shows one of the children how to play "drop the bunny" a version of "drop the handkerchief".

OFF WITH THE OLD... Until a few weeks ago, the Child Development Center was housed in this not-very-attractive quonset hut to the side of McKinnon School on Moorpark Ave. When Chandler Tripp opened it's new facility in March, two classrooms were made available to the Center, and 27 children are currently enrolled in a daily program.

ON WITH THE NEW.. This is an outside view of the two new classrooms which the Child Development Center is using. A group has been formulated called the Parents and-Friends of Child Development Centers for Handicapped Minors which hopes to eventually raise funds to supplement care of the mentally retarded children who are attending the school.

County food stamp program shows big increase in April

The fourth mailing of authorizations in Santa Clara County's fast growing Federal Food Stamp program, have gone out, according to R. Dale O'Donnell, county program supervisor.

A total of 2,992 families received authorization to buy stamps. This figure represents more than a three-fold increase over the original number of families participating in the voluntary program.

The discount food program began operating in Santa Clara County on March 1. It is designed to increase the food buying power of person living on low incomes and public assistance. County, State, and federal governments all play a role in the program.

Besides the 2,992 families now receiving stamps under the U.S. Department of Agriculture program, an additional 2, 311 individual adults are presently receiving stamp authorizations once per month. There were only 431 individuals in the program at its initiation. Only families receive authorizations twice a month.

This month individuals and families will be authorized to purchase $406,797 worth of stamps from any branch of the First National Bank of San Jose.

Persons enrolled in the program will purchase the stamps for a total of $301,760. O'Donnell estimates that the program will add $102, 037 to the County wide economy this month.

Information regarding the program may be obtained by calling the County Welfare Department.

FEWER HORSES

There are about three million horses and mules on farms today, compared with more than 20 million in 1928.

Freedom from Hunger Committee sends truck to Valdivia, Chile

A 4-ton capacity refrigerated truck will be on its way to Valdivia, Chile on or about April 20, a gift to the Valdivia Fishermen's Cooperative from the Northern California Freedon from Hunger Committee. Cost of the truck is $7,000. Shipping costs of $1,700 are being paid by the Valdivia Co-op.

Students at Castro Junior High and Del Mar High School have participated in fund-raising activities for this project, which is part of a world-wide Freedom from Hunger Campaign. The concern and support of citizens everywhere is being solicited in the fight against the growing problem of world hunger.

For two years the 125 families comprising the Valdivia Fishermen's Cooperative have been waiting for this opportunity to send their fresh fish to the metropolitan markets of Chile--waiting the chance to bring in the huge volume of edible fish swarming off their coast--the most valuable source of protein available. Waiting also are thousands of customers in the lower-income bracket of Santiago, Conception and other centers of population who have been deprived of this essential food at a price which they can afford to pay. Problems of preserving and transporting fish have worked against its being used to meet widespread nutrition deficiency.

The Northern California Freedom from Hunger Committee is located at 740 Hilmar Street, Santa Clara. Mrs. Grace McDonald, its secretary, states that about $900 still remains to be raised for the truck and that donations are welcome from private as well as group sources.

STUDENTS AID CHILEAN FISHERMEN... High School students in this area have helped to purchase this refrigerated truck for Chilean fishermen to send their products to metropolitan markets of Chile.

RAIN DROPS

Liquid sunshine continued to deluge Campbell and the state during the week, with 23.71 inches being recorded as of 8 a.m. Tuesday. Normal for the season is 13.90 inches with 12.01 inches this date last year.

For the rain-weary residents the Campbell Water Company dug back to the year 1941 and found that in that year 27.30 inches had fallen by this date 26 years ago.

Total rainfall for the 1965-66 year which ended July 1, 1966, was only 12.03 inches. Rain was still falling at Press time with no relief in sight.

Fire damages Eastfield Children's Home unit

Six children being cared for at Eastfield Children's Home, corner of E. Latimer and Llewellyn Avenues, were temporarily being housed in other units this week as the result of a fire which started at approximately 8:30 a.m. Thursday, April 13.

According to Karl A. Marshall, Eastfield executive director of the facility for emotionally disturbed children, the flames caused no structural damage and he anticipates clearance from the Campbell Building Department to replace the smoke and heat damaged segments of the eight bedroom home called "Boy's Cottage". He hopes to have the children back to normal circumstances in approximately a month.

Although only six children were housed in the cottage the other 10 being cared for were attracted to the blaze and excitement and required considerable care to keep them out of the fire fighters way.

Cause of the fire may never be known according to Marshall. If examination proves that faulty wiring was not to be blamed, the two small boys who possibly could have been playing with matches in a closet, are so emotionally disturbed that they will not be able to give an accurate accounting of the cause.

The Campbell Fire Department was called by Walter Kuntz, maintenance man for the establishment, who then returned to the blaze and assisted Miss Karen Crites, housemother and Lee Garrett, recreational counselor in evacuating the children from the burning structure. Intense heat from the blaze kept the volunteers from fighting the fire until the Campbell Fire units arrived on the scene. Eugene Borden, Campbell fire marshall, estimates damage to the structure as approximately $16,000.

During the reconstruction period Marshall reported that the four boys have been doubled up with the other children and the two girls have been moved to another girls cottage unit. Only 16 children are presently being cared for at the home with five other children receiving "day care."

Marshall stated that structural damage was only part of the disaster, with all of the children being extremely upset over the five itself. "Doubling up" and the general disturbance to their life have added to the emotional upheaval. Some have been so emotionally disturbed that they have not been able to attend school, and it is hoped that a quick restoration of normalcy will aid the children.

GOING UP IN CAMPBELL...First the new sign, for Benson's Campbell Cleaners, at 507 E. Campbell Ave., and then the brand new equipment, while will bring even wider services to customers Along with the improvement in extra services will be a new innovation of "car-hop" service, where the customer will merely drive-up to the side-entrance and a courteous employe will come out and take your clothes, etc., inside without you leaving the car for a second.

Lowell Benson, and his wife, "Skipper", are now in their 29th year of service in the cleaning business, and plan an opening announcement early in May. In the meantime they are still "doing business at the same stand", at 260 E. Campbell Ave.

THE WINNAH...Sam Simmons, pictured above with his mother, Mrs. Rodney Simmons, 931 Kennedy Ave., Campbell, and Allan Blaine, owner of Aero Drugs, 2075 Winchester Blvd., was the very happy winner of that fine "Pony Bike".

Sam, the closest guesser on the number of capsules and tablets in the bottle for the Bexel Vita-Rama Contest had intended riding it home...but the rains came...and "Mom", Kathron Simmons, "rode" it home.. in the back trunk of the car.

CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT...The Grand Opening celebration of the Crown Billiards, at 1740 S. Winchester Blvd, by the brothers, William and Harold Hall, will take place during April 21, 22, 23, will feature many prizes, and surprizes!

The Hall brothers, are long residents of Campbell, and owners also, of Aluminum Prods.

The "crowning" aspect is a "first-of-its-kind" in arrangement of an Upstairs Room for adults and "daters" where family fun is not interrupted by the "swinger-set", while the downstairs is open for the "young-set" and the exuberant player.

The Billiard rooms are located across the street from Lee Bros. Market, and Campbell Shopping Center, and opens at 10:00 A.M.

Boy Scouts

Cub Scout Pack 330 of San Tomas School, held its monthly meeting in the school cafeteria.

The meeting was opened with all the Dens taking part in the flag ceremony.

Cubmaster Dewey King announced that the annual Pinewood Derby would be held at the school on April 28. He also announced that plans for the exhibit at the Scout-O-Rama should be started soon.

Craig Cummings, who has transferred to Pack 300 from his former pack in Springfield, Va., was introduced and welcomed into the Pack.

Mr. King then presented awards.

New Cubs receiving their Bobcat pins were Mark Alcala and Jim Myers. Duane Meyer was given his Wolf award. Bear awards went to Keith Hirose, Ron Jackson and David Pancake. Boys who earned their Lions were Stephan Candelaria, Kevin Dunwoody and Tom King.

Arrows were awarded to Robert Steele, Kevin Vargus, Patrick Candelaria, Tom King and Bob Surratt.

Bob Moody was presented with his Second Year pin.

A Perfect Attendance award was given to Bob Surratt.

Cubmaster King then donned the Indian feathers and buckskins of Akela. He called on Bob Surratt and his parents to come forward and to enter the Circle of Light. He presented Bob with the Arrow of Light award. Akela spoke of how the Cub had followed the Scouting Trail through Cub Scouts and was now advancing on into Boy Scouts. Akela wished him well on his journey

After presentations, Mr. King closed the meeting with the boys joined in the Great Circle.

By budget cuts District 4 can hold tax rate

Sanitation District No. 4 budget for the 1967-68 fiscal year of $1,781,647, as submitted to the district's board of directors by Steve Goodman, manager, is down $244,313 from the last fiscal year.

The cut in the total appropriation, Goodman explained, is possible because of a decrease on capital expenditures for sewer construction and sewage treatment capacity acquisition.

Goodman added that the appropriation decrease will allow the district to maintain its present total tax rate for the fiscal year 1967-68 at 20¢ per $100 assessed valuation.

Because of the drop in building construction this year, Goodman said that it is estimated that there will be only a 2.5% increase in assessed valuation in the district for a new total of $192 million.

The budget calls for $231,970 for salaries; $249,080 for operations and $729,320 for capital improvements. In addition, $103,000 will be held in general reserves and $214,850 in reserves for acceleration of sewer construction to allow phasing with major street improvements.

Anticipated income for the fiscal year 1967-68 will include $421,000 from taxes; $336,100 from sewer service charges and $84,700 from miscellaneous sources.

Goodman also pointed out that the district has maintained the same 20-cent tax rate since it was formed in 1949.

Phone company pays big tax bill in county

The second installment of Pacific Telephone's annual tax payment to Santa Clara County was made recently when a check for $3,684,561.13 was presented to Tax Collector Treasurer Lou Engeman.

Of this amount Campbell received $6,182.75.

A similar payment was made last December, according to Lee Sicard, local manager.

The payment was $839,995.64 higher than a year ago, a 12.6 per cent increase.

Santa Clara County collected $3,208,484.25 for itself and for special district levies.

In addition, it also accepted the city taxes in addition to Campbell, for Alviso ($277.68), Cupertino, ($1,519.30) Gilroy ($463.35), Los Gatos ($921.95), Milpitas ($8,581.41), Morgan Hill ($1,073.43), Mountain View ($28,801.15), San Jose ($321,439.17) Santa Clara ($46,761.50), Saratoga ($397.34), and Sunnyvale ($52,690.62).

The city of Palo Alto collects its own taxes which this year amounted to $54,499.28 plus $12,634.77 for a Palo Alto University Avenue assessment district for the second installment.

Pacific Telephone's total property tax bill in California for fiscal 1966-67 will be about $126,755,000, up 5.5 per cent over last year.

The company's 1960-61 property tax payments amounted to $81,222,000. Payments this fiscal year are $45,533,000 higher for a 56.1 per cent increase over five years ago.

As a result, the company continues to hold the record, as it has for the past eight years, as California's largest single property taxpayer.

PG&E pays big tax installment

Santa Clara County Tax Collector L. E. Engeman this month received from Pacific Gas and Electric Company a second installment check on a total PG&E 1966-67 property tax bill of $5,061,314 in the county.

The sum represents 2.52 per cent of all property taxes levied in the county for the year.

Ellis B. Langley, San Jose Division manager of the company, said PG&E's total property taxes in 49 California counties amounted to $98,984,408.

Doggie Diner burglarized

The newly-opened Doggie Diner at 1651 W. Campbell Ave. was burglarized of the day's receipts last Tuesday night, but quick action by the Campbell police resulted in the capture of a suspect. They have arrested and booked Samuel A. Wallace, 45, of 5223 Graves Ave. on burglary charges and assault with a deadly weapon.

Officer Ed. Falgatter and James Connelly responded to a call from the restaurant that someone was breaking into the rear door of the building. They arrived in time to see the suspect leaving the building. When advised to halt the suspect allegedly attempted to strike Officer Falgatter with the tire iron he was carrying. The Campbell police officer had to draw his gun to force the suspect to stop, according to the police report.

After apprehension officers found approximately $75 in cash on Wallace.

College board calls for bids for first building in Saratoga

A major step forward toward construction of the Saratoga campus of West Valley College was taken by the Board of Trustees at its meeting Thursday night.

The Board authorized calling for bids for construction of the first struction on the site, the Engineering-Technology Building, following return of working drawings from the Division of Architecture and Construction of the State of California, Return of final plans are expected next week.

The Board instructed Dr. Wallace W. Hall, district superintendent, to advertise for bids for construction, on-site work, including utilities, excavating and grading, and other related work for the building, which is expected to be occupied on the new campus for the opening of the September, 1968 school year.

Plans and specifications for the $1,687,110 building have been prepared by Reid and Tarics, AIA, district architects. It is expected that groundbreaking on that project will begin some six weeks after calling of bids, Dr. Hall told the Board.

FEDERAL PROJECT

The Board also authorized application to the State Department of Education for about $26,000 in Federal National Defense Education Act funds, half of a $53,065 project.

If the application is approved, the funds will be used to equip and operate new laboratory facilites for physics and geology, and to provide necessary equipment and materials for additional course offerings of marine biology, mineralogy and physics.

NDEA funds were made available by Congressional action in 1958, when it was declared "a national responsibility to provide financial assistance to the schools of the states in the education of its children, youth, young men and women in civics, economics, English, geography, history, mathematics, modern foreign languages, reading and science."

OTHER ACTIONS

The Board also:

1). Accepted the low bids of Courtesy Chevrolet of $3,177.52 and West Valley Ford of $3,007.40 respectively for a one-ton flat bed dump truck and a one-ton platform body truck with a steel lift gate.

2). Authorized the filing of an application for a basic grant of $5,000 and a supplemental grant of $32,224 from the College Library Resources Program of the Higher Education Act of 1965.

3). Appointed the firm of Metcalf, Gianni and Brungardt, Certified Public Accountants to audit the accounts and records of the college for 1966-67 at a maximum cost of $1,950.

4). Reappointed six assistant deans as follows: Calvin L. Bell, student personnel, services, student activities; Arnold J. Edman, student personnel services, counseling and guidance; Hubert Hall, instruction, library services; Nero Pruitt, instruction, extended day and summer session; Albert J. Riendeau, instruction, vocational technical education; Donald R. Ziegler, student personnel services, admissions and records.

5). Reappointed Robert G. Fricke as assistant to the president for the 1967-68 year as part of the administrative internship program begun last year.

6). Reappointed 43 members of the faculty to the permanent staff for 1967-68, and 70 faculty members to the probationary staff for the same period.

Drivers losing control causes most deaths on state freeways

Death occurred most frequently on California freeways in 1966 when drivers lost control, ran off the highway and hit a fixed object.

The second most common fatal accident was almost identical. It occurred when a vehicle left the road, went out of control, skidded and then rolled over without ever hitting any other object.

Research now under way but not yet completed by the California Division of Highways shows that 273 persons died in single car accidents of the first type, and another 172 met death in the second.

The danger of being a freeway pedestrian was proved by the deaths of 80 persons who were struck down while on foot inside freeway boundaries.

REAR-ENDERS

The most frequent type of fatal accident in which more than a single vehicle came to grief was the rear end collision. Eighty of these accounted for 90 deaths.

Head-on collisions brought about by wrong-way drivers accounted for 23 fatal accidents in which 31 persons died. There were 35 accidents which caused 54 deaths when out-of-control vehicles crossed the median and struck another vehicle.

Eight accidents in which 11 were killed occurred in construction zones, two more died in two sideswiping mishaps and another 10 persons lost their lives in various other types of accidents.

Approximately 2000 miles of freeway were open to traffic during 1966. They carried one-fourth of the 100-billion miles of vehicle travel that were driven in California.

The State's overall fatality rate was 4.62 persons killed per 100 million miles of vehicle travel but this figure dropped to 2.78 on the freeway system.

State Highway Engineer J.C. Womack has expressed concern over the fact that almost three-quarters--525 of 723 deaths experienced on freeways--occurred in single car accidents.

"We are doing our best to do something about all types of accidents," he declared, "But we are concentrating in particular on those where vehicles are running off the road out of control!"

10 MEASURES

Womack listed 10 remedial measures that have been initiated to combat the single car accident. They are:

1. Eliminate steel sign posts in off-ramp gore areas because of vehicle violations of such areas.
2. Use only two spans when possible in the design of overcrossing bridges. This will eliminate two abutments.
3. On new freeways with 30-foot minimum medians, build single bridges rather than separate structures for each direction of travel. This will eliminate two bridge rails.
4. Sign posts, light standards and trees to be placed further from the roadway.
5. Timber posts to be used in lieu of metal for all signs up to 90 square feet in area and for even larger signs in rural areas.
6. Breakaway steel posts to be used on large signs in urban areas. This type of post tends to cut down on the severity of an accident when struck by a vehicle.
7. Fewer light standards. New ones to be mounted on cast aluminum breakaway bases.
8. Where the situation permits, signs in the median will be mounted back-to-back for viewing from opposite directions. This will eliminate one set of poles at each location.
9. Where possible, mount signs on bridges This will eliminate poles.
10. Where feasible, concentrate signs and light standards behind nearby existing guard rails that protect other fixed objects.
